Studebaker

Economical Light Weight

It holds the road; it travels in a straight line.

Set its course on the crown of a country highway, and the Studebaker SIX stays there.

It does not creep or slide to one side or the other, as many cars invariably do.

This quality we call road-ability.

It indicates perfect balance, and balance goes back to Studebaker engineering and manufacturing methods.

Specifying our own tests: giving them our own heat treatment, forging and machining, and stamping all parts in our own plants, we build lighter and distribute that light weight with perfect uniformity.

So we have great advantages over the assembler. He must accept the portable standards of quality and weight.

We set our own because we manufacture from raw materials, also made to Studebaker formula.

The result is better quality, true roadability—vastly better value than any other. Send for the Studebaker Proof Book, describing Studebaker manufacturing methods.

Going Deaf?

Good News!

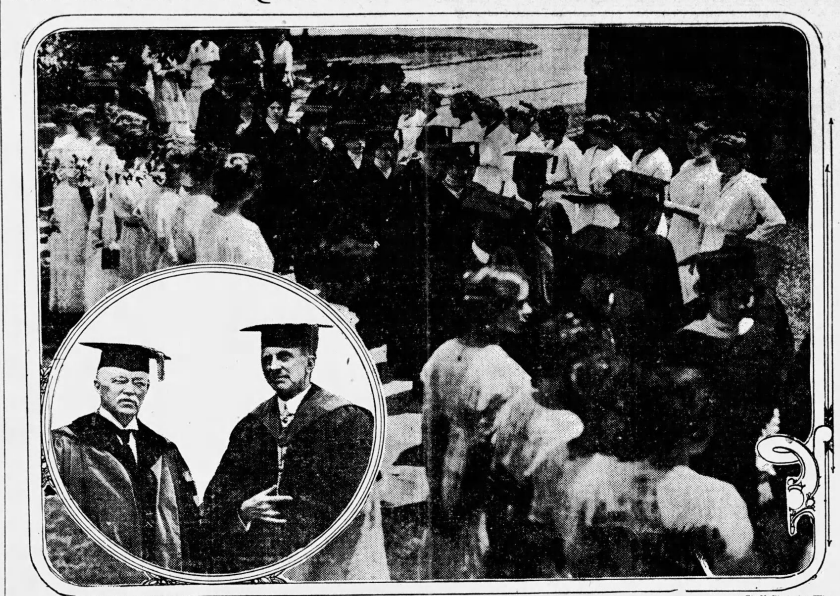

An engineer who had ear trouble for years, finally became so deaf he could not hear the sound of a steam engine bell or whistle. After vainly seeking position. His case seemed hopeless. His deafness was aggravated by head disturbances, dry catarrh, nervousness and dependency.

To the surprise of all he began to hear and continued improving until he could listen to conversations, could hear a train at a distance and even the singing of birds in the trees. His head and nerves became tranquil. He got his position back again. This was no miracle, no surgery, no artificial hearing devices, no electric apparatus, no loss of time.

Whoever is becoming deaf can obtain permanent free hearing by the method of Dr. J. H. G. Gregory, 5719, Forbes St., Jamaica Plain, Mass., enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope. He will tell you how he and many others have been wonderfully benefited.—(Advertisement.)

SEVENTEEN COLLEGE REPRESENTATIVES ATTEND AGNES SCOTT QUARTO-CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

CELEBRATING SCENES. The procession that opened the celebration Tuesday morning, snapped as it moved across the campus from the W. H. White House to Rebecca Scott chapel. Below, Dr. F. H. Gaines, president of Agnes Scott, on left, with Chancellor James H. Kirkland, of Vanderbilt University.

Noted Educators From All Over Country in Processional With Seniors and Undergraduates

Long shafts of sunlight falling between the green branches of giant oaks, Tuesday morning rested softly on black caps and golden tassels, flowing gowns and hoods flaming crimson and purple, and on the shimmering white dresses of hundreds of undergraduates who led the procession across the campus for the formal opening of the quarto-centennial celebration of the founding of Agnes Scott college.

It was an impressive parade. In the slow-moving line were some of the country's most learned scholars, linked with young women on the brink of graduation, with girls but lately entered on their college careers.

At 10:30 o'clock the noted educators in attendance at the celebration assembled on the steps of the White House, at the eastern end of the campus. Next to them, on the porch of Inman Hall, were gathered the members of the student body, clad all in white, and the members of the senior classes, each in her coveted cap and gown.

At a given signal the procession started. At its head two members of the faculty, Miss Elsie W. Heinrich and Dr. R. G. Stutes, followed by the undergraduates, walking slowly two by two.

Came next the seniors. Then the Agnes Scott faculty, and the visiting scholars, the sombre blackness of their robes relieved by bright patches of gold and purple and scarlet and crimson, the insignia of many and varied degrees.

In that last section were some of the leading educators in Dixie. It was led by Dr. Gaines, the college president, and behind him marched the representatives of seventeen different colleges and universities.

There was Chancellor Kirkland, of Vanderbilt; Dean Snelling, of Georgia; President Bell, of Converse; Eleanor L. Lord, dean of Goucher college, and many others famed in college circles north and south.

At the three winding sections—white-gowned girlhood, black-gowned seniors, and man and womanhood, gowned and deers to the king's color—they marched across the sun and shadow-dotted campus in the freshness of the May morning to the steps of Rebecca Scott chapel.

Here the undergraduates dropped to one side, forming a double line through which the seniors and the others slowly marched.

The celebration had begun.

The program was a long one, but interesting. It opened with prayer by Dr. Luke Johnson, followed by a salutation to the audience by F. H. Gaines.

Hon. C. Murphy Chandler, president of the state railroad commission, read a historical sketch of Agnes Scott, from its founding twenty-five years ago, through its days of struggle and progress to its present position as the leading woman's college in the south.

The body of the morning's exercises was taken up with greetings from the various visitors: Dean Charles H. Snelling, of Georgia, on behalf of the colleges of the state; Vice President F. W. Martin, of Randolph-Macon Woman's college, on behalf of southern colleges for women; Miss Eleanor L. Lord, dean of Goucher college, on behalf of the Southern Association of College Women; Miss Laura Drake Gill, representing the University of the South, on behalf of the Associated Alumni; and Chancellor James H. Kirkland, of Vanderbilt university, on behalf of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States.

The exercises closed with Chancellor Kirkland's greeting. The student body will attend the Atlanta Theater Tuesday evening to hear Vice President Thomas R. Marshall's address.

Among the visiting educators to the celebration are the following: President Robert P. Bell, B. L. Litt, D. of Converse college; Dean Eleanor L. Lord, A. B., A. M., Ph. D., of Goucher college; Floyd Field, A. B., A. M., representing Harvard university; William H. Emerson, Ph. D., Sc. D., representing Johns Hopkins university; R. F. Gilliam, A. B., representing Leland-Stanford, Jr., F. W. Martin, M. S., Ph. D., vice president of Randolph-Macon Women's college; Mrs. Hamilton Douglas, A. B., M. L. B., representing Rockford, Ill. college; George Harrington, A. B., A. M., N. P., A., representing Rutgers college; Edgar H. Johnston, Ph. D., representing University of Georgia; Gilbert H. Rogers, B. Sc., Ph. D., representing University of Virginia; W. H. Hopkins, B. L., B. D., representing University of Wisconsin; D. Leslie Stamp, A. B., representing Ursin college.

MAON JUDGE BELIEVED MACY SHRINERS STRANDED

Robert Hodges Surprised When He Saw Red Caps on Street and Emblems in Hotel

Judge Robert Hodges, of the city court of Macon, Ga., did not get up to Atlanta during Shrine week but he did reach the city Monday night for a short visit and with the impression that all of the wearers of the red cap and fez had long since gone.

It so happened, however, that Yarnall patrol was having a gathering in honor of Forrest Asher and accordingly some of the nobles were to be seen about the streets and hotel lobbies wearing the fez.

The judge entered the Piedmont hotel just as several Shriner's were going out. "Great guns," he exclaimed, "I thought the Shriner's convention was over week before last and they're here yet. Some of 'em must have got stranded," and he was wondering how he would be able to find hotel accommodations. His amazement was even more pronounced when he walked to the desk and saw the two towering totem poles and emblems that had been captured from Nile temple, Seattle, Wash., and left standing on top of the mail and key rack.

He didn't know what to think. He had certainly heard that the convention was over but there he was surrounded by fezes and looking straight at a camel with "Nile, 1913" emblazoned on his side.

Just then an Atlanta friend of the judge walked up to greet him and incidentally it was up to the friend to explain that those were Atlanta Shriner's.

To Have Pretty Hair

If your hair is not as soft and pretty, or as fresh and full as that of some friend, do as she does—give it daily attention, just the same care you would give to the hair of a beautiful woman.

Luxuriant hair—soft, fluffy thick and lustrous—is really a matter of care. If it is too thin, make it grow. If it is too dry and brittle, soften it up. If it is too oily, cleanse it. If it is too itchy, soothe it. If it is too dull, brighten it. If it is too limp, firm it. If it is too dry and brittle, soften it up. If it is too oily, cleanse it. If it is too itchy, soothe it. If it is too dull, brighten it. If it is too limp, firm it.

Parian Sage, an inexpensive tonic, which you can get from any drug or toilet counter, or from Jacobus J. Storer, is just what you need—it softens the scalp, nourishes the hair roots, immediately removes dandruff, and makes the hair fluffy, lustrous and makes One application will stop itching head and cleanse the hair of dust and excessive oil. Parian Sage takes away the dryness and brittleness, makes the hair twice as abundant and beautifies it. It is soft and lustrous.

By the use of this helpful tonic any woman can easily make her hair soft, fluffy and abundant. Pretty hair will surely increase her charm and beauty. (Adv.)

How to Save Your Eyes

Try this Free Prescription

Do your eyes give you trouble? Do you already wear eyeglasses or spectacles? Thousands of people wear these "windows" who might easily dispense with them. You may be one of them. It is your duty to save your eyes before it is too late. The eyes are neglected more than any other organ of the entire body. After you finish your day's work you sit down and rest your muscles, but how about your eyes? Do you rest them? You know you do. You read or do something else that keeps your eyes busy; you work your eyes until you go to bed. This is why so many have strained eyes and finally other eye troubles that threaten partial or total blindness. Eyeglasses are merely crutches; they never cure. This free prescription, which has benefited the eyes of so many, may work equal wonders for you in a short time. Would you like your eye troubles to disappear as if magic? Try this prescription. Go to the nearest wide-awake drug store and get a bottle of Optics tablet, fill a two ounce bottle with warm water, drop in one tablet and allow it to thoroughly dissolve with this liquid. Bathe your eyes (the four times daily). Just note how quickly your eyes clear up and how soon the inflammation will disappear. Don't be afraid to use it; it is absolutely harmless. Many who are now blind might have saved their eyes had they started to care for them in time. This is the best treatment, but marvelously effective in multitudes of cases. Now that you have been warned, don't delay a day, but do what you can to save your eyes. Your letter will be opened and answered by a woman, publishing this prescription.—(Adv.)

CHRIST'S SECOND COMING NEAR, SAYS EVANGELIST

Rev. J. E. Neighbor, in Baptist Campaign, Asserts Signs of Times Give Indication

The second coming of Christ, which is prophesied in the Bible, was declared to be near at hand by Evangelist J. E. Neighbor, Bible student and ex-minister, at the Central meeting of the Baptist evangelistic campaign Tuesday morning.

The signs of the times about us are indicating unmistakably, "I know any thing about it, that the second coming of Christ is near at hand," he declared.

Prophecies from almost every book in the Bible were quoted by him, in support of his belief, and examples of partial fulfillment of those relating to the second coming of Christ were cited in modern events and tendencies.

Mr. Neighbor has been a missionary to Brazil and served there a number of years. He is now connected with the department of evangelism of the Baptist church.

When Christ shall have come to the earth, according to Mr. Neighbor, he will rule on an actual throne. He declared his belief that the prophecies will be carried out literally.

"God is not running around for words to say what He means, and I believe that the prophecies will be carried out as they are written."

At the Woodward Avenue Baptist church, beginning Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Neighbor will preach a series of sermons on the coming of Christ into the world, which will continue throughout the week.

One of the greatest curses of the modern church, according to Evangelist Lamb, which has been encountered in modern times, is that of children come into the church without an adequate understanding of what the step means, and without the consequences of their action.

The roll of those who have joined the Baptist church as the result of the revival has gone over 2,000 by the end of the week.

Thursday will be a day of fasting and prayer for the evangelists and Christian workers. A meeting will begin in the morning at the First Baptist church, and will continue through the day. No food will be eaten by those who will participate, and prayers for those who have not been reached by the campaign so far will be offered.

The shop meetings, which were not held Saturday or Monday, began Tuesday, and will be continued throughout the week. The success of these meetings has been even more than was expected by the leaders.

ALUMNI TO URGE PASTOR TO TAKE SEAWANE CHAIR

Members of the Atlanta Seawane Alumni association are very desirous that Dr. C. H. Wilmer, pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal church, accept the chair in the theological department of the University of the South, and at a meeting of the association to be held Friday evening at the University church a committee will be appointed to urge Dr. Wilmer to take favorable action upon the university offer.

At this meeting the association will elect delegates to attend the Seawane commencement exercises on June 15-17. There are about 200 members of the association of which John D. Babage is president.

CAPTAIN LEAHY ELECTED MAJOR IN FIFTH GEORGIA

Wins From Captain Palmour After Long Fight to Command Second Battalion

By the scant majority of one vote, the result standing 24 to 23, Captain W. H. Leahy, of company E, Monday night defeated Captain Oscar Palmour, of company A, for major of the second battalion of the Fifth Georgia regiment after the fight for the place had been deadlocked on two former occasions.

Major Leahy has been chosen a major to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Major Walter Hendrix to lieutenant colonel, the campaign between the two popular captains has been a hot and active one but absolutely free from any ill feeling. The excitement over the ultimate outcome has been at fever heat among the field and line officers who have been so equally divided for their choice and it has been impossible to even guess at the winner.

Major Leahy has been prominent in military circles for the past sixteen years when he first served in the militia in Savannah. Since that time he has been service in other cities in Georgia, Alabama and Florida. His first commission was that of first lieutenant of the Savannah militia in 1903. Prior to that time he served with the same company as a non-commissioned officer in the Spanish-American war. He left the service in 1905 and six years later was made captain of company E fifth regiment.

"Food Fads"

The Government has issued a timely warning against the food faddists who are offering to cure all sorts of ailments with strangely concocted food preparations that are supposed to supply the needed elements for restoring wasted tissue and energy.

Shredded Wheat

is not a "food fad". It is the one universal, staple breakfast cereal that has survived all the ups and downs of public fancy. It will not cure disease, but its continued use will keep the stomach sweet and clean and the bowels healthy and active. It will correct many digestive disorders and thus restore health and strength through proper nutrition—a food for invalids and athletes, for outdoor men and indoor men. Ask your grocer.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with hot milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Deliciously nourishing when eaten in combination with baked apples, stewed prunes, sliced bananas or canned or preserved fruits. Try toasted Triscuit, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon with butter, cheese or marmalade.

DEFICIT OF $17,505

IN CITY'S FINANCES

Finance Committee Takes Back Money From January Appropriations to Make It Up

The finance committee of general council met on the 26th of June at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Instead of making appropriations as they are asked for, the committee found itself compelled to take back portions of the appropriations made in January and not yet expended. Figures submitted by the city comptroller's office showed a deficit of $17,505 for which the committee was now making provision. It was decided to provide for the deficit by the following January appropriations: From the Pacific bottle neck widening appropriation $2,000; from the appropriation of $5,000 to build an engine house in the Fifth ward, $4,000; leaving the ward without an engine house; from the appropriation of $10,000 for the all street, $3,319; from the sale of the old Edgewood lighting plant, which is now money that just came in a few days ago, $5,000; making a total of approximately $10,000. The deficit of $17,505 was appropriated to finish the interest on sewer that the Atlanta street company. Finishing this sewer is made imperative by a threat to enjoin the city for maintaining a nuisance.

BURNS' MEN FIGHT
EFFORT TO SHUT UP
OFFICE IN ATLANTA

From some one in a rooming house in the vicinity of the Commercial-Clark street, a man called on a reception of the license, which has only thirty days more to run on the ground that the Burns agency has not complied with the regulations of the police board. The man, who is only two, A. D. Thomson and George H. Boynton, who are the only two, and they did not defend Burns. Mr. Thomson said that the papers of the case are making it appear as if the citizens of Atlanta have formed themselves into a mob to have a verdict on whether he is guilty or innocent. The man out of the rooming house tried to find the truth in the murder case, he said, would increase that criticism.

He said that he did not approve of the methods of Burns, and that he thought Frank case is over and out of the courts that it might not be a mistake to revoke the license, but he considered the agency unwise at present.

Probe of Charges in

Frank Case Postponed

The probe of bribery and perjury charges by the county grand jury was not resumed on Tuesday because of the engagement of the solicitor's entire staff in the work of changing the verdict of evidence presented by the defense in the extraordinary case of a new trial for Les M. Frank. This work will not be completed until late the afternoon. Solicitor General and Attorney Leonard Haas, of the defense, will appear before Judge Hill at his residence to secure his signature on the papers, which will allow the defense to appeal the case to the supreme court. The new trial for Les M. Frank will be held before midnight Tuesday.

Solicitor General Dorsey stated Tuesday that so much of his time had been taken to check up on the case that he may not be able to prepare his showing on the motion to set aside the verdict on the ground that Frank was out of the court when it was rendered. This means a probable postponement of the case to the next Friday morning for a hearing.

Because of the engagement of the solicitor's force it is probable that the grand jury probe will be postponed until the motion to set aside has been argued.

The definite date for the next grand jury meeting has yet been fixed.

BIG GAIN THIS YEAR IN NUMBER OF FIRES

To Date There Have Been 800, as Compared to 1,100 for Whole of 1913

Since January 1, 1914, Atlanta has had a total of approximately 800 fires. The total for the whole of last year was only 1,112.

Fires in Birmingham and other southern cities show a similar increase, according to the underwriters' association.

It is a strange fact that cities in a particular section of the country will have a record-breaking number of fires during the same period.

Atlanta's increase is explained by the fire department on the ground of deteriorating shingle roofs. Certain sections of the city built up almost overnight, some ten or twelve years ago. The shingles have reached the point where they lean from a spark point where they lean from a spark point where they lean from a spark point.

Two new subscriptions for Forrest Adair fund were announced Tuesday by the committee. J. W. Goldsmith, Jr., sent $5, and E. E. E. sent $5.

The committee is almost ready to proceed with the purchase of the tribute which Atlanta will give to the man who made them possible. Few subscriptions remain unpaid.

Full publication of the entire list of paid subscriptions will be made as soon as the fund is complete.

Mr. Adair followed with the presentation to Johnny Peele, who was greeted with cheers—for Yaarab was not soon forgot the inspiring drum corps. Mr. Peele said a few words, the tables were cleared away, and the dance to Mr. Adair as a "veritable prince of the royal blood of good fellowship."

Nowadays no railroad magnate is a hero to his office boy.

What we want is a revised almanac giving the required amount of rain from now on.

Vice-President Marshall.

Atlanta is happy and honored to have as its guest today the Vice President of the United States, and his visit is the more pleasing in that he is a guest not merely in the political but in the broad human sense of the term.

Vice President Marshall is first, last and always an American citizen, interested in the things that concern the rank and file, constantly devoted to the general good and gifted with a keen sense of fellowship for men of all sorts and conditions.

His progress from high office to high office, in his own State and in the republic, has left his native simplicity unspooled and his interest in the homely affairs of ordinary folk undiminished. He speaks in popular idiom because he thinks in terms of the country's everyday life and feels in terms of the people's homes and hearts.

The occasion of the Vice President's visit is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Agnes Scott college. Mr. Marshall's interest in educational affairs has been life-long. His speech and influence have counted for much in the country's collegiate affairs. It is peculiarly appropriate that he should deliver the principal address in the celebration of a college that has played so good a part in the education of Southern womanhood.

If we have a mean disposition there's no cure for what ails us.

All signs fall in dry weather, even lightning in the north and an east wind.

General James P. Graves.

There has passed in the death of General James P. Graves, a shining exemplar of the knightly old South. He was a soldier of the type that fought beside Lee, a scholar who cherished learning as the flower of life, a gentleman whose courtliness was the outflow of a kindly heart, and whose conscience was his king.

General Graves served his home land through the war of the Confederacy, and in the years that ensued he gave his best to its rebuilding. He was the oldest surviving graduate of the University of Georgia. Uncommonly brief in length of days, he passed the twilight of his four-and-ninety years in serene and unshaken faith, faith in the essential goodness of mankind, in the worthiness of human life and the invisible Grace that guides the world.

General Graves was born and reared a Georgian, and hundreds of Georgians mourn his passing and revere his memory. To his bereaved family, we extend our heartfelt sympathy and condolence.

Huerta probably realizes that, jobs being so scarce, he had better hold on to what he has.

Vital Statistics and Public Health.

It is a significant fact that the health record of the United States has steadily improved as the registration area for vital statistics has increased.

In 1880, when the registration area included only 17 per cent of the population, the mortality rate was 19.8 per thousand.

In 1900, when the registration area had extended to 37.9 per cent of the population, the mortality rate had dropped to 16.5 per thousand. In 1910 mortality had dropped 16 per thousand, the registration area having risen to 53.3 per cent.

In 1912, because of vital statistics had been established in a majority of the States, and covered 62 per cent of the population; in the same year, interestingly enough, the death rate was only 12.9 per thousand, up to that time the lowest recorded.

The registration of vital statistics is unquestion-ably essential to effective campaigns against disease.
These records of births and deaths and causes of death are aptly called, "life-and-death bookkeeping." Without them, the efforts of the medical profession and of health officials are seriously handicapped. Especially is this true in the case of such maladies as typhoid, malaria, pellagra and tuberculosis, which concern the community no less than the individual.

Vital statistics point the way and give impetus to all manner of sanitary reforms. They place the health interests of county and State on a business basis, and naturally lead to wholesome results. That is why the mortality rate in the United States decreased from nearly twenty per thousand to less than fourteen per thousand within the period when the registration increased from 17 per cent to 62 per cent of the population.

Georgia is said now to be the only State in all the Union that has not enacted a general vital statistics law. That is a disadvantage which the Legislature should make all possible haste to remove. The good name and the deepest interests of the State are involved. Georgia must be put abreast the nation.

Some men are capable of neither putting up a job nor holding one down.

Increasing Georgia's Food Supply.

The entire State has cause to be interested in the Animal Industry convention, held Tuesday at Quitman, Brooks county. Georgia spends some sixty million dollars a year for meat, most of which is imported, at high prices, from the distant West.
That is a fact of far-reaching importance in our business as well as agricultural affairs. It means that we are dependent consumers in a field where, by every natural circumstance, we should be independent producers, that great currents of wealth which could be held at home are flowing out to feed our own people and to enrich foreign treasuries; it means high cost of living for Georgia households, hampered development for Georgia farms, and deferred progress in every sphere of the State's material life.

The purpose of the Animal Industry convention is to change that sixty million dollar liability into an asset of many millions more. Its task is a very hopeful one, for, already the forward movement has begun. The last few years have abounded with experiments which prove that one of Georgia's richest opportunities is in raising live stock on the home country lands, where the convention meets, a record of nation-wide interest has been established.

The farmers of that progressive county have demonstrated that they can produce bacon of the highest quality at a cost of from three to five cents a pound.
Some weeks ago The Journal published on this subject an article that has challenged attention the country over. The writer, who had gathered the facts and figures from first-hand observation, said in substance: In Nebraska, Missouri and Iowa, it costs the average farmer four dollars to raise a hundred-pound pig; in Illinois, it costs six dollars; while in Brooks county, a hundred-pound pig can be raised and dressed for but ninety cents for three dollars.

Last February the farmers of Brooks county drove to town in a procession of twenty-two savory wagons, bearing forty-five thousand pounds of home-raised bacon. "This meat," said the Quitman Free Press,
"cost the producer an average of five cents a pound.
It sold for an average, to wholesale dealers, of fourteen cents a pound, not including the by-products, such as jowls, backbone, suet, feet, livers, etc."
The average value of one hog then mounted to $140.00, and on peanuts, is above twenty dollars.
The county will raise more than three hundred thousand pounds this season."

That is a specific example of what Georgia can do in one branch of the animal industry, and a forecast of what scores of counties will do when farmers awake to the opportunities about them and apply proper methods. Brooks county's remarkable success is the result of steady, businesslike operation. The farmers planted fifteen thousand acres in peanuts, twelve hundred and thirty-nine acres in sweet potatoes, some thirty-five hundred acres in hay and forage, and six thousand more acres of corn than of cotton.

Thus they were prepared to raise hogs at a minimum cost and to develop an industry that is attracting the attention of the entire South. This, they could never have done had they depended upon other sections for provender. They laid a firm basis for animal husbandry by producing the necessary food for animals. And it is a noteworthy fact that though they devoted more care to corn than cotton, their cotton crop for the year amounted to nearly four hundred thousand bales.

The time has come when Georgia as a whole must concentrate its agricultural thought and energy on the production of foodstuffs. This State, so wondrously rich and varied in natural resources, should not spend millions of dollars and years of time in the production of cotton and other commodities which it can produce easily and cheaply at home. It should no longer neglect its great opportunities for independence and multiplied wealth. The convention held Tuesday at Quitman is a pledge of vigorous, organized effort in this important field of enterprise; and as such, its work merits the earnest co-operation of all agencies that are devoted to the State's upbuilding.

It's difficult to account for the bright remarks of some children after hearing their parents talk.

Some men are troubled with temporary deafness;
It all depends on who is talking and what is wanted.

Suffragists oughtn't to complain, when a city like Atlanta permits women to be members of 'certain bodies.

General Funston reports to the war department that the sick rate among the soldiers at Vera Cruz is 1.49 per cent among the marines 1.46, with no mortality. If the marines' temper is as good as well in the 90s each day and the humidity rate is high, General Funston's statement would be incredible if medical science in the army had not made such tremendous strides since the Spanish war.—New York Sun.

Language usually reserved for political opponents is employed by the Portland Oregonian in its attack to express its abhorrence of persons who "mark up" libraries. "The people who commit this offense," it says, "fall into three classes: those who use ordinary pencils, who use red ink, and those who use those who use ink. The first are worthy of the rock-pile, the second of the penitentiary, the third of the gallows." The writer goes on to remark that they will be punished if they ever get a good eye for but they infallibly select the silliest. "Their eye for nonsense equals the vulture's scent for carrion." Surely this is to mitigate the offense of which the western writer complains. The most irritating part of their making free with public property is their lighting now and then upon the gem in a passage, and by labeling it, depriving any other reader of the pleasure of finding it. The writer is not far from the mark. "Insult is a good thing by the tact assumption of the marker that no one else would have properly appreciated the lines which he is so graciously pointing out to the benefit of a stupid world.—New York Evening Post.

Editorials in Brief

Secretary Georgia State Board of Health.

Editor The Atlanta Journal:
The time has come when the constitution of the United States should be so amended that no president could declare war with any nation without submitting the question to the people and submitting it to a two-thirds vote of the Senate.
The nation should be so amended that there is nothing to do but to consent or to fight.
On April 9 an American submarine the United States flag, sent an unarmed squad to procure information. The crew was taken aboard and the submarine officer arrested the squad and, on carrying them to jail, he met a superior officer, and the officer sent them back to the landing to await orders. Within two hours the crew were released, an apology given, the United States flag was hoisted, and the submarine returned. Rear Admiral Mayo further demanded a check p. in Sunday, the 19th of April, a check of twenty-four hundred dollars was paid, and the subma- was released. The United States flag was refused, and because of this the nation is plunged into war. Let the people of the United States arouse themselves and demand that no president should be invaded the people should resist the action by a vote of the Senate. The people should not only have to not only furnish the money for the war, but they have to furnish the men to be killed, and the women and children who are left behind.
With the most profound respect for all the candidates running for the United States Senate, I ask each of you to declare against the United States amending the constitution of the United States that submitted to a vote of the people, unless our nation is invaded.

THE FALLACY OF FIGURES

BY DR. FRANK GRACE.
(Copyright, 1914, by Frank Grace.)

Every once in a while some scientist comes forth with figures to prove that, at the present rate of growth, the population of the United States will be 200,000,000 in the year 1914. A. D.
Or that, if things go on as they are now going, there will be no children at all born in 1919.
Or that in a certain time there will be more houses piled up in the country than there will be land to be looked up in any way.
Or that in a definite number of years every house in the country is a daily hall, and there will be more tongues than there are people.
Or that tuberculosis, cancer and the bookworm will use up the entire population and go after the dogs and cats.

Or that, with the present rate of increase in automobile business, every human being in 1919 will drive three machines, and there will be no room in the streets to move; two deep, all the way.
Or that, considering the trend of things in Washington, we shall have a king or a dictator in a little while.

Or that, taking capital and labor for our statistics, it will not be long before two or three generations own all the money, and the millions will be gnawing bones.

Or that religion is dying out, and at a certain date the last church will be converted into a lively stable.
Statistics are the things that make a liberal dose of imagination, and they are about the scariest things you can find.

Anything that the figure-jugglers, from Maltheus down to the trust-buster, leave out of consideration is this:
That anything in human affairs gets to be about as big, it becomes top-heavy, and falls.

Human institutions last no longer, than the record of ecclesiasticism and how it bred the heretics that gnawed it, or have you read the stories of Caesar and Napoleon? Conquerors are not immortal. Military preparation; it will grow so monstrous some day that it will make the world a madhouse.
Also, don't lose any sleep over the growth of the trusts. Secretary of Commerce Redfield, in his last annual report, made some very interesting statistics that ought to cure your hysteria of statistics. He said, in substance, that:

"The limit to the efficiency of large combinations. Economies of management do a good deal to reduce the cost of production, but the economies of capital should make it possible to adopt the most progressive methods of production. But after a point, the economies of capital begin to be counterproductive, which is the essence of commercial success." The economies of capital, he said, are "costly and bustling," either by stimulating independent competition, or by arousing public antagonism, or by accumulating capital, or by simply getting too fat and heavy for its feet of clay."

"The present rate of increase" in anything is not eternal. After a while it develops its own cure.

The Journal's Letter Box

Editor The Journal:
Atlanta, Ga., May 15, 1914.

We wish to endorse your recent editorial entitled "The Fallacy of Figures." It is a very timely and valuable contribution to the public mind. It is shown that between the years 1908 to 1913 the increase and death rate from typhoid fever had decreased from 219 cases per 100,000 population to 12.9 deaths, in a total enrollment of less than 7,500 men, to only thirty deaths with no deaths in the total enrollment of nearly 92,000 officers and men.

Not only have the army and navy of our country stamped out typhoid fever by natural immunity and vaccine, but this has also been due to a large extent in the armies and navies of all of the world powers.
If the present war will be a successful one, it will develop the disease, it will certainly protect the human race from the disease, it will certainly protect a large number of bulletins on this same subject, and various newspapers throughout the state have very kindly published these articles, and we are very glad to see them. We have repeatedly, in other ways, urged the legislature to make an additional appropriation of $10,000 to the state board of health, and we are very glad to see that the legislature has decided to carry on an active campaign against this disease. Our people for the sake of the state, and for the sake of themselves, should be very much interested in this given us being in words to the effect that the state could not afford it. In their words, those in authority said that it would be a waste of money to do so.
To have approximately 7,500 cases of typhoid fever every year, with about 750 deaths, then it would cost $10,000 a year to prevent the disease, and we are very glad to see that the legislature has decided to carry on an active campaign against this disease.

TEETHINA RELIEF FOR TEETHING BABIES
Teethina (Teething Powder) is the original preparation of Dr. C. J. Mullen, a graduate of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, and used by him for over 40 years most successfully for babies' ailments.

TEETHINA (Teething Powder)
Teethina is the only extra-pure baby's health and progress because it brings on many disorders of the system, such as dysentery, diarrhoea, colic, worms, etc., which make teething hard. Teethina relieves the trouble and corrects the entire system. Babies teething may for the present, develop feverishness and fretfulness and refuse the mother's milk, which is natural and unobtainable, and after a few days the life of the child will be saved by giving it. If your druggist cannot supply you do not wait for any money but write to us for a sample. It is free.

TRIMMING THE GULLS

By Innis Brown

Have you ever heard the story of the little girl who had a little curl, which she was very much averse to trimming? If you are familiar with the traditions concerning this little curl, you can appreciate keenly the Mobile baseball team which blew in on its Monday morning as guests of Billy Smith and associated laborers in the field of work.

As the story goes, among other things, when good, this little curl was very good, but when she was bad, she was the limit. It may be taken for granted that Billy Smith's back was well served by the hair of the Gulls as good as that of any other team.

Things a plenty continued to happen to the Gulls from that place on until the sixth, when Kirby was summoned in from right to take the burning job. He fared no better. Two times on balls, two batters hit by pitched balls, and a pair of safe runs, allowed the home people to bat around and incidentally score four runs. Exit Kirby. The next game, Larry Brown, who serves as a remote understudy to Charlie Schmidt behind the platter, was called on to do a bit of box work. As a pitcher, Larry was a huge success. He worked two innings, and many a run did they score. What is more, Larry worked a razz-dazzle on Harry Holland in the seventh and fanned him. Larry did more than hold his own; he pitched a perfect game, preceding him. He retired the Crackers for two innings without a hit or run.

While the Crackers were indulging in their own offense, and Frank Browning was working in a very forthrightly except in two rough spots. First the fourth, when he pitched a rather tough bunker, when Larry Kirby, who served as a remote understudy to Charlie Schmidt behind the platter, was called on to do a bit of box work.
